1 – Organise your notes and reading texts into the two broad themes for AS and A level and then sub-divide appropriately.

2 – For the two films you are studying “El laberinto del Fauno” and “El espinazo del diablo”, you need to make time for a second viewing and revise the following aspects;

- i. Social context of the film
- ii. Characters, their role and what they may represent
- iii. Plot development and themes

3 – Get out your “Palabra por palabra” book and test yourself on the vocabulary from the first section about framing your essay – most of the vocabulary will be transferable to the oral exams (Unit 1 and 3).

4 – Not all of the A level topics listed above have been covered yet, do NOT panic in the mock exam if there is a text from that topic.

5 – Practise your verb patterns on the website “languagesonline.org.uk”.

6 - Download the “El país” App onto your smartphone or tablet and read/listen to one article per day.
