

Why choose Drama & Theatre Studies A Level?

If you are energetic, creative, have a passion for theatre and drama and enjoy working with others then you might well enjoy our two creative arts courses.

What will I study?

You'll study plays from the point of view of a director, designer, performer and critic whilst also learning how to develop your performing and analytical skills. You'll have the opportunity to devise your own original piece of theatre and apply what you have learned in your own creative work.

What career and university options can it lead to?

Many students progress to a Performing Arts or Drama degree at university which could lead to a career in teaching within theatres, directing theatrical productions, becoming a lecturer at university or becoming an actors' agent.
